VOLUME XXXV. NO. 166

SEYMOUR, INDIANA, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 28, 1916

PRICE TWO CENTS

MEMBERS OF CO. K TAKE OATH TODAY

Militiamen From This City With a Dozen Other Companies Mustered Into Federal Service.

REFUSAL BY FOURTEEN MEN

Second Regiment Band, Composed of I. U. Students, Expected to Object to Pledge.

By United Press.
Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, June 28—With fourteen members of the Indiana National Guard facing court martial because they refused to take the oath mustering them into federal service, mustering officers encountered more trouble today.

While no members of the Ft. Wayne, Bloomington, Winamac, Spencer, Winchester, Terre Haute, Crawfordsville, Seymour, Vincennes, Valparaiso, Muncie, Mt. Vernon and Lebanon, mustered in this forenoon, refused to take the oath, rumors were current that members of other companies would refuse to take the pledge which is said to bind them to three years' service with an added three years in the federal reserve.

The oath administered to the guardsmen follows:

"All and each of you whose names are entered on this roll having been accepted into the United States service as commissioned officers or enlisted men of the militia this 27th day of June, 1916, for your current commission or enlistment unless sooner relieved by order of the President do solemnly swear that you will bear true faith and allegiance to the United States of America, that you serve them honestly and faithfully against all their enemies whomsoever and that you will obey the orders of the President of the United States and the orders of the officers appointed over you according to the rules and articles of war. So help you God."

The real opposition is expected to come when an attempt is made to muster in the Second Regiment Band, composed of Indiana University students from all parts of the state. Members of the band assert that when they enlisted the federalization clause was waived and that they are prepared to face court martial if necessary.

The main business at Camp Ralston today was the mustering in of the guardsmen. Preparations were being made to get the artillery battalion in readiness for a call at any time, though a call is not expected for several days.

VALLONIA BOY A MEMBER OF LAFAYETTE BATTERY

Arnold Turmail, Son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Arnold, in Camp at Ft. Benjamin Harrison.

Another Jackson county boy who is in camp at Ft. Benjamin Harrison awaiting orders to entrain for the Mexican border is Arnold W. Turmail, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Turmail, of Vallonia. He enlisted with battery B. in Lafayette when he was a student in Purdue several years ago. Following the completion of his course in Purdue he went to Racine, Wis., where he is employed in an automobile accessory factory. He received notice the first of last week that the mobilization order had been issued and arrived in Indianapolis the latter part of the week. His parents and brother, William, visited him at Camp Ralston Sunday.

TWO MORE SEYMOUR BOYS ENLIST IN REGULAR ARMY

Harry Waterbury and Dewey Linder Both Under 18, Sent to Louisville for Examination.

Both of the young men are under 18 years old but were enlisted under the bill passed by Congress June 3, by which the only requirement for men of this age is the consent of either their father or mother. Sergt. Lett announced today that there will probably be quite a number of men enlist under the new conditions.

OLDEST RESIDENT OF VICINITY DEAD

Mrs. Charlotte Kreinhagen Passes Away at Her Home Near White Creek at Age of 101 Years.

WAS A NATIVE OF GERMANY

Deceased Came to This Country in 1835 and Two Years Later Moved to Community Where She Died.

Mrs. Charlotte Kreinhagen, the oldest woman in this vicinity, died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Berhman, near White Creek, at the age of 101 years, ten months and thirteen days. Her death was due to infirmities of old age. Until two years ago she enjoyed excellent health and was unusually active considering her advanced years. During the early summer of 1914 she fell down the basement steps while walking about the house and sustained injuries from which she never fully recovered. After the accident, however, she was able to get about the house and her condition was not regarded as critical until the last few weeks. For some time she had been unable to leave her bed and death resulted from mere exhaustion of her system. The woman had received no medical treatment for more than two years. The coroner was called so that a death certificate could be properly filled out.

Mrs. Kreinhagen was born August 15, 1814, in Hanover, Germany. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gardschmidt. She came to this country about 1835 and for a number of years lived in Cincinnati. It was in that city that her marriage to William Kreinhagen was solemnized in 1837. Immediately after they were married they moved to Bartholomew county, settling near White Creek, when that vicinity was wild and unbroken. Mr. Kreinhagen was a pioneer of that section and found it necessary to clear much of the land for cultivation. He died thirty years ago last February.

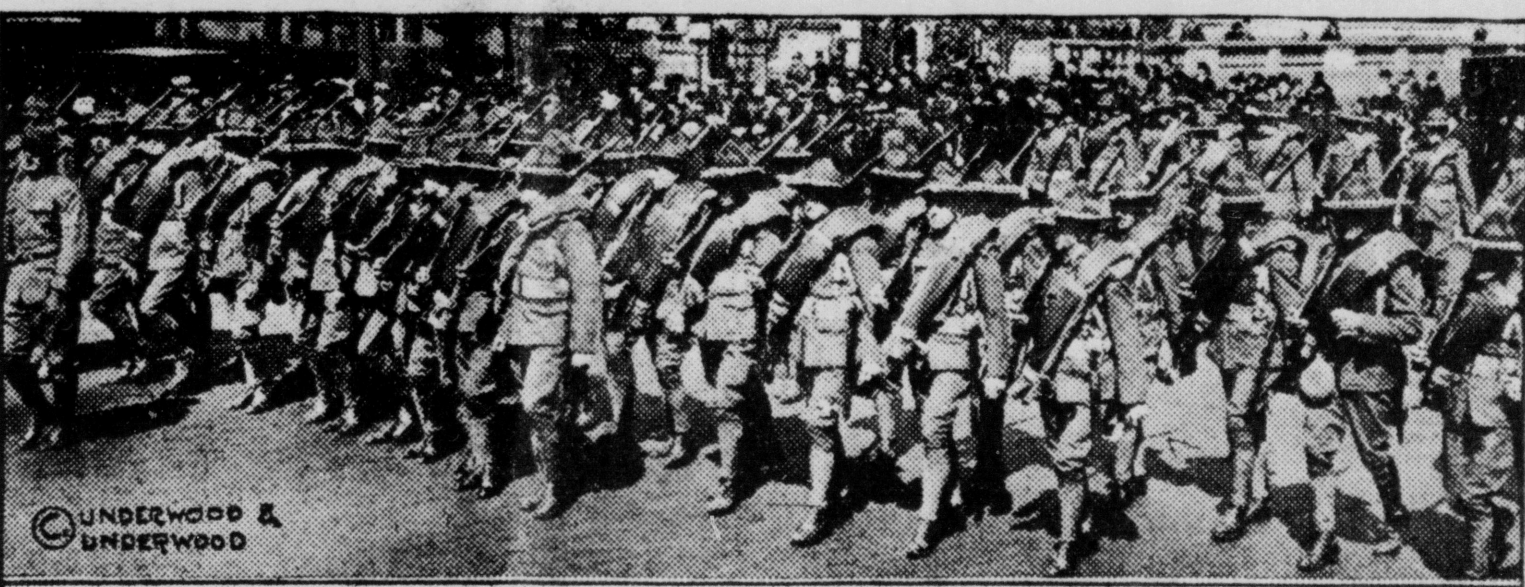

After the death of her husband Mrs. Kreinhagen went to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Behrman, and had lived there continuously. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Behrman, of White Creek, and Mrs. Tillie Miller, of St. Louis, and one son, John Kreinhagen, of Cortland. She also leaves eight grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Kreinhagen was a woman with remarkable activity. After she was ninety years of age she would spend considerable time in the garden and used the hoe and rake as well as she did at the age of fifty. Her grave is a spot in the country cemetery that she selected about ten years ago. In the plot which she desired for her grave was a large stump but without assistance she grubbed it out, working a little each day until the task was accomplished. It is recalled that when she was a young woman she would walk from her home near White Creek to the Rockford M. E. church which at that time was the only church in this vicinity.

The death of Mrs. Kreinhagen recalls the celebration of her one-hundredth birthday anniversary which was observed by the entire White Creek neighborhood in August, 1914. The White Creek German M. E. Sunday School held its annual picnic on the 18th of August and it developed into a big birthday party for the aged woman. She was always an ardent member of the German M. E. church and was faithful throughout her long life. She was a regular attendant at all services at the White Creek church as long as her health permitted and even after she was unable to leave her home she was deeply interested in everything that the church did. At the picnic two years ago a number of ministers who had served the church as pastor during the active years of Mrs. Kreinhagen's career were present and paid beautiful tributes to her character and service.

The funeral services will be conducted from the Behrman home Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Bockstaler, pastor of the White Creek church, officiating. The remains will be laid to rest in the cemetery near the church.

REGIMENT OF NATIONAL GUARD ON THE MARCH

HODAPP CREDITORS TO BE PAID IN FULL

Trustee Steinker Says This will be Possible if the Plant will Sell for at Least $38,000.

LIABILITIES	TOTAL
-------------	-------

$55,000

Stock on Hands and Bills Receivable

Estimated at $17,000—Claims on Deposits Must be Filed.

That every creditor of the Hodapp Hominy Company which recently went into a voluntary assignment will be paid in full, is the belief of Fred Steinker, trustee, if the plant can be sold for $38,000. The trustee estimates that the feed and grain on hand together with the bills receivable will bring approximately $17,000. This makes a total of $55,000, the amount of the liabilities. Mr. Steinker was appointed trustee by the directors of the defunct company when a decision was reached to throw the affairs of the company into a voluntary assignment.

It is stated that if the entire assets of the company are sold for $55,000 the stockholders will get nothing. However, whatever the plant sells for above $38,000 will be divided among the stockholders. Although it will be some time before final settlement can be made it is certain that the stockholders will not receive payment in full for the stock they hold.

The plant is now being operated under the supervision of the trustee on the order of the court. It is in operation and during the last month has been run at a small profit. There is a movement on foot, it is stated, to organize a new company to take over the plant when it is sold at the order of the court. The mill cannot be sold until such sale is advertised for at least thirty days and the preliminary steps are to be taken soon. It is believed now that the plant will be sold at court order within the next two months. It is reported that a number of wealthy farmers are anxious to take stock in the proposed new company and have offered to become assistant in financing the new corporation as soon as the details can be worked out.

Trustee Steinker says that it is necessary for all persons having flour and feed deposits with the Hodapp Company to file claims in full immediately. This is necessary so that final settlement can be made. Some of the depositors, it is said, have drawn out part of their flour to which they are entitled. The court recently gave an order that fifty per cent. of such flour and feed deposits could be taken out. It is explained that it is necessary for all depositors to file a claim for the entire amount placed on deposit and then in the settlement credit will be given for what has been withdrawn.

Trustee Steinker has made arrangements to purchase wheat at the Hodapp Mill and also at Peter's Switch. He announces that the regular business of the firm will be continued as usual and that all patrons of the concern will be looked after under the receivership the same as before the assignment was made.

MEDICAL CORPS AT FORT HARRISON IS KEPT BUSY

Lieut. Kyte, of This City, With Other Officers, Working 18 Hours a Day—Men Anxious to Leave.

Mrs. E. G. Kyte returned last evening from Ft. Harrison, where she visited her husband, Lieut. Kyte, who is attached to the regimental infirmary of the Second Infantry. In his company are five officers and twenty men, the latter of whom are all students of Indiana University. They have the medical care of the seven hundred men in the second regiment in their hands, and are busy at present administering the typhoid vaccine to the men, working from 5 a. m. until 11 p. m.

In case of actual service, Lieut. Kyte is to be assigned to the "dressing station," located as near to the firing line as possible, to which the wounded men will be brought for immediate attention, following which they will be sent back to the field hospital in the rear.

Mrs. Kyte reports that all of the men in the medical corps are impatient to get the word to go, but are not expecting to get away before the last of the week. While at the camp she met several of the officers and men of Company K, and found them all in the best of health and spirits.

BOYS TO BE ASSISTANT CUSTODIANS AT PARK

New Plan is Decided Upon by John Pruitt, Physical Director, and Mayor Ross.

A play whereby the boys who enjoy the playground and swimming pool at Shields Park are to divide the responsibility with John Pruitt, custodian, of preserving order and keeping the grounds in good condition has been instituted by Pruitt and Mayor Ross. One or two boys will be appointed assistants each day and each boy will be given opportunity to serve one or two times during the summer. The assistants will wear ribbons indicating their authority.

Under this plan the assistant will be asked to collect the tickets at the swimming pool, look after the playgrounds or perform other duties when the custodian is engaged in route work which falls to his department. Recently Pruitt was placed in charge of the grounds and will also act as physical director. He conducts several classes a day and looks after the physical training of the boys. Part of his salary was made up by public contribution by persons interested in the work that is being done at the park and the balance will be paid from the park fund. The grounds custodian was recently released from duty and the salary that he received will be paid to the physical director.

The lads are interested in getting the tennis court in good condition and today were busy scraping off the surface. The court has not been used much this year but a larger number will take advantage of it when it is put in better shape.

The first Illinois will go to Brownsville, Tex. Other Illinois troops will go to San Antonio. Kansas militia-men will be sent to Eagle Pass, Wisconsin to San Antonio, and the Missouri troops to Laredo.

Other troops in the central department which includes Indiana were ordered to depart for points yet to be named as soon as "reasonably ready." The troops will not be delayed in departing for lack of equipment as this will be furnished at the border.

TIME LIMIT PLACED ON REPLY FROM CARRANZA

Action by First Chief on Release of American Soldiers Expected Late Today.

By United Press.

Washington, June 28—General Carranza must release the American prisoners held at Chihuahua City by midnight or President Wilson will go after them. Those close to the President today declared that there will be no delay in the light of demands from Carranza that Mexican prisoners held in this country be released and that the embargo on food supplies held in this country be released. That, according to state department officials is another question.

The state department expects the Carranza reply by early afternoon. It was said this belief is based on a telegram from Consul Rodgers which reached state department officials shortly before midnight last night. There is a feeling that the first chief will yield. It is known positively that Carranza intended to release the prisoners at first.

MEXICAN BAND OF SIX WIPED OUT BY AMERICANS

Believed to Have been Bandits who Murdered William Parker and Wife During the Night.

By United Press.

DENIES CLASH

Funston Says Eleventh is Not in Battle With Mexicans.

By United Press.

San Antonio, Tex., June 28—General Funston today denied the press report of the clash between the Eleventh cavalry and the Carranza troops near Ahumada. He said if wounded Mexicans had been taken to Colonia, Dublin, he would have received General Pershing's report on it before this time.

The Mexicans' concentrating south of Naco, Ariz., have been blocked by General Davis' show of strength, Funston believes. New York militiamen are expected to arrive in Brownsville Friday. They will be distributed along the border in that district.

OLD LADY FEELING FINE

After Taking Four Bottles Of Cardui, The Woman's Tonic.

Cobden, Ill.—"Having used Cardui, the woman's tonic, in my family, for a number of years," writes Mrs. Kate Metz, of this town, "and always with such good results, I feel it my duty to write you about it, so that you may publish my letter.

My mother is living with me, and she is 52 years old. For the last three or four years, she has been troubled a great deal with cramping spells, and for days at a time, she would have a severe headache.

She read of how much Cardui has helped other women who were sick and ailing, and decided to give it a trial. She began taking it three times a day, and since then has been getting along simply fine.

Mother only used four bottles of Cardui, but she is no longer troubled with the severe headaches, and her stomach is so much stronger that she can eat most anything.

We both feel that any lady who is not strong and well, would be greatly benefited by the use of Cardui."

Federal Inquiry or Railroad Strike?

Faced by demands from the conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen that would impose on the country an additional burden in transportation costs of $100,000,000 a year, the railroads propose that this wage problem be settled by reference to an impartial Federal tribunal.

With these employees, whose efficient service is acknowledged, the railroads have no differences that could not be considered fairly and decided justly by such a public body.

Railroads Urge Public Inquiry and Arbitration

The formal proposal of the railroads to the employees for the settlement of the controversy is as follows:

"Our conferences have demonstrated that we cannot harmonize our differences of opinion, and that eventually the matters in controversy must be passed upon by other and disinterested agencies. Therefore, we propose that your proposals and the proposition of the railroads be disposed of by one or the other of the following methods:

1. Preferably by submission to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the only tribunal which, by reason of its accumulated information bearing on railway conditions and its control of the revenue of the railways, is in a position to consider and protect the rights and equities of all the interests affected, and to provide additional revenue necessary to meet the added cost of operation in case your proposals are found by the Commission to be just and reasonable; or, in the event the Interstate Commerce Commission cannot, under existing laws, act in the premises, that we jointly request Congress to take such action as may be necessary to enable the Commission to consider and promptly dispose of the questions involved; or
2. By arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the Federal law" (The Newlands Act).

Leaders Refuse Offer and Take Strike Vote

Leaders of the train service brotherhoods, at the joint conference held in New York, June 1-15, refused the offer of the railroads to submit the issue to arbitration or Federal review, and the employees are now voting on the question whether authority shall be given these leaders to declare a nation-wide strike.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is proposed by the railroads as the public body to which this issue ought to be referred for these reasons:

No other body with such an intimate knowledge of railroad conditions has such an unquestioned position in the public confidence.

The rates the railroads may charge the public for transportation are now largely fixed by this Government board.

Out of every dollar received by the railroads from the public nearly one-half is paid directly to the employees as wages; and the money to pay increased wages can come from no other source than the rates paid by the public.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, with its control over rates, is in a position to make a complete investigation and render such decision as would protect the interests of the railroad employees, the owners of the railroads, and the public.

A Question For the Public to Decide

The railroads feel that they have no right to grant a wage preferment of $100,000,000 a year to these employees, now highly paid and constituting only one-fifth of all the employees, without a clear mandate from a public tribunal that shall determine the merits of the case after a review of all the facts.

The single issue before the country is whether this controversy is to be settled by an impartial Government inquiry or by industrial warfare.

Ice Is More Than Frozen Water

THE ice that you buy for your comfort, satisfaction and protection in the summer-time is more than a mere block of frozen water. You demand more than ice—and you get more.

Whether you actually buy ice every day, you demand the convenience of being ABLE to buy it—of having it at your door every day, subject to your pleasure. Therefore

ICE IS More than a Product—It is A SERVICE

Had you ever thought of it in that way? The ice manufacturer must first manufacture the ice, which is an expensive process. Then he must actually send it to your door BEFORE he knows whether you will buy it or not.

The average family spends an average of from 7 to 10 cents daily for ice—some a little more—some a little less. Considering the extraordinary usefulness of ice, as well as the service rendered, does every 7 cents that you spend in other ways get you as much as your ice-pennies?

Telephone just once to one of the dealers named below, and ice will be at your door daily thereafter—to take or reject at your pleasure!

- (2) That when we correct the disordered condition, we eliminate the disease.
- (3) That the blood is the carrier of poisons throughout the body.
- (4) That to successfully treat any disease originating in the blood, we have to treat the blood, as the cause.
- (5) That S. S. S. is the most reliable remedy for removing impurities from the blood.

USED FOR 50 YEARS SUCCESSFULLY

S. S. S. is no experiment of today, but is a successful remedy for the blood that has been a blessing to thousands of sufferers for the last fifty years. There is nothing mysterious about S. S. S. Poison, chronic skin trouble, or any other form of blood trouble. S. S. S. will go directly to the seat of the trouble; giving the blood a thorough cleansing, driving out the impurities in a natural way, and leaving the blood pure and refreshed, ready to do its full duty in building the tissues up to a normal and healthy state. NOTHING TO MEDIATE.
General Carranza surely cannot expect this government to take seriously his proffer that the differences between the United States and Mexico be submitted to arbitration. Apparently his purpose in offering such a suggestion is to try to give the impression to the world that war, if it is declared by this country, was forced on Mexico. In this he will fail. Other powers know full well all conditions.
Mexicans, presumably at the instance of the first chief, have taken and are holding American soldiers as prisoners. President Wilson has demanded the de facto government to release them. That was the president's only course. The holding of American soldiers in itself is a hostile act. If Carranza refuses to release them after a firm but courteous demand has been made he must know and does know that United States soldiers will be sent after the Americans held as prisoners in Chihuahua City. The other nations throughout the civilized world would expect this country to do so. They would be surprised if the United States did not go after them.
If we declare war on Mexico, that act does not necessarily mean that this country intends to take over the Mexican territory. The United States has never fought a war for territorial gain. Conflicts of this country have always been waged in defense of righteous principles. The Mexican campaign should be no exception.
Mexico is trying hard to enlist the aid and sympathy of the South American Republics. These countries are friendly to the United States and we hope to maintain that friendship for mutual benefit. The United States has no intention of encroaching upon the Republics of the South. We only hope to restore order and law in Mexico and thereby guarantee to the American citizens along the border the rights of life and property to which they are entitled under the constitution of the United States.

The course of this government is very plain. There can be no deviation. Carranza has been given ample time to comply with a reasonable request and the compliance is only what is right and just. If he refuses to release the soldiers he must take the consequences.

Indiana has done itself proud in furnishing its quote of militiamen for service along the border if they are needed. This state has always answered the call of the country in times such as these. Hoosiers are loyal patriots and the record to which the state has proudly pointed in the past is maintained.

W. J. Trench, agent for the Santa Fe, a year ago left his overalls hanging on a peg when he went for a visit. In one pocket was a valuable key with a string attached to it. He has just found the string and the key when he kicked a wren's nest while stepping over a bunch of cactus.—Mentone (Cal.) Dispatch, San Francisco Chronicle.

EXPERIMENTS SHOW WHY HOUSE FLY IS DANGEROUS

Carries Uncleanliness Equal to 2to 3 Per Cent. of Weight—Fifth Contains Disease Germs.

By United Press.
Washington, June 28.—The ordinary house fly carries about with him, recent government experiments show, an amount of uncleanliness equal to 2 to 3 per cent. of his weight. If the average man were so unclean as that, he would have on his body about four pounds of filth.

A cow or horse as dirty as a fly would carry 20 to 25 pounds. The fly does not weigh much, but it can harbor millions of disease-giving germs. As a matter of fact, the dirt on a fly is about one-half bacteria—bacteria of many kinds, large and small, thick and thin, long and short. If cut out of its abundance of bacteria the fly deposits a typhoid germ in a can of milk, there is every likelihood that in a short time there will be enough typhoid germs in that milk to make it a dangerous, frequently a fatal, poison.

In the experiments in this subject conducted by the Department of Agriculture, a number of flies were caught and washed in sterile, distilled water. Uncleanliness to the amount of from two to three per cent of the flies' weight settled at the bottom of the tubes, and of this about half was bacteria. In addition there remained in solution in the water enough dirt to discolor it. The fly can and does carry the germs of tuberculosis.

Flies which had been allowed access to animals suffering from this disease were caught and washed in sterile water. Inoculation tests from them subsequently proved that they bore living, virulent tubercle bacilli.

Miss Margaret Loertz was the honor guest at a sunset luncheon given by Miss Jennie Mae Widener at her home on North Pine street. After luncheon the evening was spent in games and contests and later in the evening refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostess. About twenty-five boys and girls enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Widener. Miss Loertz will leave soon with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Loertz, for their future residence in Columbus.

PICNIC.

The members of The Loyal Devoirs, of the Christian Church, held their annual picnic at the city park Tuesday evening. The customary picnic supper was spread shortly after 6 o'clock and was followed by a general good time for the remainder of the evening.

THE GOOD CHEER CIRCLE.

The Good Cheer Circle will meet in the Sunday School rooms at the First Baptist church Thursday evening, the 29th. A sewing class will be organized. Come promptly at 7 o'clock. Bring scissors, thimble, needle and white thread.

JUNIOR KAFFEE KLATCH.

Miss Josephine Fettig was hostess to the Junior Kaffee Klatch this afternoon at her home on West Sixth street. Following a delightful afternoon with fancy needlework an elegant course luncheon was served.

Just as the members of the Fire Department were getting ready to retire Tuesday night one of the firemen noticed a bright light in the front of the grocery of L. L. Bollinger. The firemen made a quick run to the grocery only to find a fire in a stove at the rear of the store, the door of the store having been left open. The light from the fire made it appear that the entire front of the building was in flames.

MOTORCYCLE RACES FEATURES FOR FOURTH Big Celebration Staged at State Fair Grounds.

Indianapolis, June 28.—The chief celebration of the Fourth of July in Indianapolis will be held under the direction of the Indiana board of agriculture at the state fair grounds, when afternoon and evening programs will be given. Five races for trotting and pacing horses, each of which is well filled with entries, will be on the afternoon card, as well as three motorcycle races, in which the best talent of Indiana will compete.

In the harness races many of the fastest horses in Indianapolis will contest and against them will be a number of others that have for some weeks been in training at the state fair track. It promises to be the greatest July harness meeting held here in many years.

In the motorcycle races, the longest of which will be twenty-five miles, the riders will especially give their attention to lowering the Indiana dirt track record.

The night program of the local celebration will be made up of "patriotism in fireworks," including elaborate displays of rockets, bombs and set pieces with a patriotic flavor.

SUGGESTIONS TO SICK WOMEN

How Many Are Restored To Health.

First.—Almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

Second.—The medicine most successful in relieving female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates and strengthens the organism; it overcomes disease.

For forty years it has been making women strong and well, relieving backache, nervousness, ulceration and inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularity and periodic pains. It has also proved invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the Change of Life.

Third.—The great number of unsolicited testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, are proof of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, in the treatment of female ills.

Fourth.—Every ailing woman in the United States is cordially invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

British Consul In Mexico Reports on Americans Captured.

Washington, June 28.—According to a dispatch sent to the state department by the British consul at Chihuahua, there are twenty-one private and two sergeants of the Tenth cavalry, together with one white interpreter interned in the penitentiary there.

Two are slightly wounded, one through the shoulder and the other through the flesh in the knee. Both are recovering and receiving medical attention. They are sufficiently fed and well treated. They have ample room for exercise. Am assured that there is no danger for their lives.

ANOTHER CLASH WITH MEXICANS

More Than Forty Prisoners Reported Taken.

VILLISTAS JOIN CARRANZA

Military Plans of Carranza Shrouded In Mystery—Believe Mexican Chief Is Preparing to Strike at Obscure Points Along the Border.

El Paso, Tex., June 28.—Carranza has been avenged, at least in the number of prisoners taken, if reports brought here from the Pershing base are true. Americans who left Colonia Dublin several days ago brought the report that as they left the camp trucks were arriving with Mexican prisoners. One man said he counted forty prisoners, all Carranza soldiers. He said the escort in charge of the trucks reported that one of the American columns sent to the relief of Captain Boyd's force, ambushed at Carrizal, had encountered a force of Carranzistas on the Santa Maria river and had killed a large number and made many other prisoners.

Major John M. Jenkins was in command of the expedition sent to the relief of the Tenth cavalry victims of the Carrizal fight, but it is not known if his troops or another command of American forces engaged the Mexicans.

Two more of the American commands at Carrizal were accounted for when two negro soldiers of the Tenth cavalry were brought to Juarez from Guzman. They are now being held as prisoners in the old federal jail in Juarez in charge of the military.

Mystery shrouds the Carranza military plans in northern Mexico, and American officials are unable to fathom what the Carranzistas are doing. Following the first excitement on the border after the Carrizal battle, the military garrison in Juarez began to leave by trainloads and reports came later that these forces and others had disintegrated at Villa Ahumada, eighty-three miles south of Juarez, on the Mexican Central, and that they were entrenching for battle.

Americans reaching Juarez on a military train that arrived from Chihuahua said they did not see any large forces of Mexicans anywhere along the Mexican Central, although they confirmed the report that heavily loaded troop trains had been moving out of Chihuahua northward. There is but one conclusion for military men and that is that these forces have been disintegrating somewhere south of Juarez, either for the purpose of flanking General Pershing or to make their way overland by wagon loads to the American border for the purpose of striking east or west of El Paso in the event of open hostilities.

Adding to the puzzle is the fact that Juarez is being garrisoned. The hundred men left when the rest of the garrison evacuated have been added to recently until there are again seven hundred men in the Mexican border city, according to estimates of American military officers.

Besides General Manuel Medina-veita, who came in command of three hundred former Villistas, Isabel Robles, another former Villa general, is in Juarez.

It is feared that all of the old Villistas will be sent to the border and in the event of an open break they will conduct a series of raids across the border above and below El Paso similar to the Columbus affair. It was even predicted that Villa would appear at the border, if he joins the Carranza army and would be given command of his old territory in the north with Juarez as his headquarters.

American refugees arriving at the border from the city of Chihuahua brought the news of unusual recruiting of natives throughout the northern part of the country.

CAVALRY PURSUES RAIDERS

Murder by Mexican Bandits Arouses the Border to Frenzy.

El Paso, Tex., June 28.—The murder by Mexican bandits of Will Parker, owner of Parker's ranch, thirty-five miles southwest of Hachita, N. M., and his wife, is the outstanding feature of developments on the border.

Feeling against the Mexicans and anxiety over the next step to be taken by the United States government were intensified by the Parker murder, and the news of it spread like wildfire throughout the border towns.

The report came from Columbus, N. M., and it is said that American cavalry has been rushed in pursuit of the murderers, and, if necessary, will cross the Mexican line in pursuit of the bandits.

$7,500 to Shively's Widow.
Washington, June 28.—The senate has adopted an amendment to the sundry civil bill proposed by Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, to grant $7,500 to the widow of Benjamin F. Shively. This is equivalent to the year's salary of a senator and is customary in cases where members of the congress die when in office.

MEXICAN CRISIS MATTER OF HOURS

Force May Be Used to Release Carrizal Prisoners.

MEXICO MAKES DEMANDS

Insists Upon Release of Mexican Civilian Prisoners In United States and That Embargo on Shipments to Mexico Be Lifted Immediately.

Washington, June 28.—Latin-American diplomats have heard that Gen. Carranza has rejected the demands of the United States for the immediate and unconditional release of the American troops held at Chihuahua.

The feeling in these Latin-American quarters was decidedly pessimistic. South American diplomats were practically one in declaring that there is no prospect of settling the dispute through arbitration if Carranza refuses to release the prisoners, and for that reason, all idea of renewing the mediatory offers has been abandoned.

No confirmation of these reports was obtainable in administration circles. Officials were still waiting with tense interest for the formal reply.

In administration quarters, the view was expressed that if Carranza rejects the demand or fails to answer it within the next forty-eight hours, the president will go before congress and ask authority to take what steps he may deem proper for the use of the armed forces of the country, including the national guard, in rescuing the troops and further safeguarding the American border.

It was learned from authentic sources, however, that the president within the last twenty-four hours has informed intimate advisers that regardless of what effect it might have on his political fortunes, he is determined to exhaust every extreme of patience to avoid war between the United States and Mexico.

If forced to take aggressive steps for the rescue of the American prisoners, the president is said to have determined he will do nothing more than enlarge the punitive force in Mexico, order Funston to effect the release of the men and then fall back for the defense of the border.

The Mexican embassy said it had received nothing whatever from Mexico City which would indicate the nature of the reply to the American demands.

War Department Busy.

While awaiting the outcome of the diplomatic exchanges between the two governments, the war department is bending every possible effort to ward hastening the mobilization, mustering in and entraining of the national guard. It is realized fully in army circles that without a considerable force of state troops on the border, ready to take the place of the regular army border patrol, no aggressive action of a considerable character can safely be undertaken.

Confidential reports to the state department indicate that Carranzista forces, taking advantage of the military delays in this country, are concentrating large bodies of seasoned troops in the vicinity of Chihuahua with the apparent intention of preparing for hostilities. This being the case, officials here do not anticipate a breakdown by Carranza from his orders to the Mexican commanders not to permit the Pershing forces to move any further east, south or west.

Eusebio Arrendondo, Mexican ambassador-designate, addressed two communications to the state department, one demanding the release of certain Mexican civilians arrested on the border by civilian authorities and the other requesting relief from an embargo placed by American customs authorities on the shipment of food stuffs and other merchandise into Mexico.

The communications, it was said at the Mexican embassy, were not based on any instructions from Mexico City, and were not to be regarded as a part of Carranza's reply to the American demand for the release of the American troops captured in the Carrizal engagement and taken to Chihuahua.

Concerning the Mexican civilians arrested on this side of the border, the ambassador advises the state department that the Mexican consul at San Francisco notified him that a Redding, Calif., one group of fifteen Mexicans was arrested last week and another of fourteen on June 21 by the local officers of that town without cause.

The ambassador states that J. M. Gonzales, agent of the treasury of the state of Sonora, Mexico, was arrested without cause at Tucson, Ariz. The communication on this subject closes with a statement that, as far as the ambassador is advised, the Mexicans are still being detained.

If such practices continue, the ambassador advises Mr. Lansing, it will naturally tend to aggravate the situation.

Freight Brakeman Killed.
Valparaiso, Ind., June 28.—R. O. Blauvelt, age thirty, of Ft. Wayne, was killed at Hobart by a Pennsylvania passenger train. Blauvelt was a freight brakeman, and was off his train engaged in switching cars when he was run down.

BRITISH ACTIVE ON WEST FRONT

General Offensive Movement Is Indicated.

FURTHER GAINS BY FRENCH

German Forces Storm Russian Lines on the Kolki-Sokul Front Where Violent Battle Rages—Italians Capture Arsieror and Posini.

London, June 28.—Activity on the northern part of the western front, the part occupied by the British and the left wing of the French forces is reported by the German war office. No considerable infantry attacks have yet been announced by either side on this front and even the usual heavy burst of bombardment preceding an attack is so far lacking. But following the announcement by the British headquarters of ten patrol attacks against the German lines, the German statement, coupled with the British announcement of continued patrol activity, is attracting the attention of military writers as possibly corroborating the prophecies of an offensive on this northern part of the western front.

On the Verdun front the French made further gains during the night in the Thiaumont sector and an attack by the Germans in the afternoon on the part of Fleury still occupied by the French was repulsed.

The German official statement says that the French attacks in the Thiaumont-Ft. Vaux region, were ineffective.

The bombardment in the Verdun region, moderate over most of this front, reached a greater intensity in the sector of Elix, south of Damloup, at the foot of the heights of the Meuse.

The Rome war office announced the recapture by the Italians of Arsieror and Posina, in the sector between the Adige and the Setto Commune plateau. Both places were taken by the Austrians in their recent rush toward the Venetian plain. The Italian statement further reports the capture of Mounts Fuara, Taverle, Spitz, Nesslerle and Cima Della Saette, as well as the crests of the Calderia and Campanella.

Rome dispatches describe the Austrian retreat as developing into a precipitate flight. The booty left in Italian hands is said to be immense and to include many guns abandoned by the Austrians.

GUARDSMEN MUSTERED IN

Nine Militiamen Refused to Take Oath of United States.

Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., June 28.—Nine hundred men, with the officers of the 4,000 members of the Indiana national guard mobilized at Camp Ralston, stood with bared heads in the blue grass fields at Fort Benjamin Harrison and with their right hands uplifted took a solemn oath of allegiance to fight for their country as members of the United States army.

A pathetic scene followed when nine members of another company declined to take the oath and, in disgrace before their comrades, were led away under heavy guard to face a court-martial.

No more definite news reached the camp about the time of the probable departure of any Indiana troops to the border, but preparations went ahead with lightning-like rapidity.

IS EXPECTED AT NEW YORK

German Submarine Reported on Way to United States.

New York, June 28.—Credentials to the officers of the German submarine, which is expected to arrive either here or at Boston today, were issued to three persons during the afternoon at the German embassy, New York.

In certain German circles in this city a trans-Atlantic German submarine is expected to reach here today. It may, however, go to Boston first.

When asked regarding the issuance of credentials an official at the German embassy at Rye, said: "We are not in a position to give out anything officially regarding that matter now."

Lake Steamer Sunk.

Salt Ste. Marie, Mich., June 28.—In collision in a dense fog with the steamer Hill of the Pittsburgh Steamship company, the steamer Panther, owned by the Mussey Steamship company, was sunk near Parisian island after her crew was rescued by the Hill.

Suicide of a Woman.

Anderson, Ind., June 28.—Mrs. Samuel C. Spence, thirty-one years old, committed suicide by swallowing poison at her home here after differences with her husband, who had taken their three children and gone to the home of a relative.

Kills Her Brother-In-Law.

Glasgow, Ky., June 28.—Mrs. Frank Hagen, thirty, shot and killed her brother-in-law, James Hagen, forty, near Cyclone. She says her husband was absent from home when her brother-in-law arrived, and that he insulted her.

CARRANZA NOW READY TO ACCEPT MEDIATION

Urges Pan-American Countries to Help.

Mexico City, June 28.—Carranza has sent a message to Ambassador Arrendondo, Mexican representative at Washington, urging him to get in touch with the diplomatic representatives of the Latin-American republics, which offered their assistance in mediating the present situation and to urge them not to spare their efforts to preserve peace.

This follows the interchange of messages between Mexico and Costa Rica, Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, Panama, Cuba, Haiti, Porto Rico, Colombia, Venezuela, Ecuador, Peru, Brazil, Bolivia, Paraguay, Uruguay, Chile and Argentina. Carranza sent to them recently the following message:

"The American government has ordered a sudden concentration of its army along our frontier, with manifest hostility trying to involve us in a war which neither the Mexican government nor people have provoked.

"War seems inevitable, although unjust and ill-matched, for both the government and people of Mexico are determined to defend their sovereignty and absolute independence, even at the cost of the blood of their sons and the destruction of their riches.

"The government believes and thus faithfully affirms that the conduct of the American government does not harmonize with its protestations of friendship for Latin-American republics, and that its unjustifiable proceedings with Mexico affect other sister republics and tend to break the bonds which by a community of ideals, origin and interests, should, and do, unite them in close solidarity now and hereafter."

TWO YOUTHS KILLED BY GAS

Overcome in Abandoned Mine—Father of One Narrowly Escapes.

Rockport, Ind., June 28.—Arthur Parker, age sixteen, and Vincent Bullington, age fourteen, met death in an abandoned mine near Newtonville, when they were overcome by gas. Edward E. Parker, the father of one of the boys, also narrowly escaped death in the search for the youths after he had been lowered down the shaft.

The two youths were on a wall when they decided to explore the abandoned mine. Going down in the shaft a distance of some twenty-two feet they were overcome and remained there three hours until their father saw their bodies, just before dark and attempted to get them.

Hinshaw Guilty.

Noblesville, Ind., June 28.—John Luther Hinshaw was found guilty by a jury in the circuit court of overdrawing his account in the sum of $3,000 while president of the People's State bank of Arcadia, one of the three Hamilton county banks closed by the auditor of state about a year ago. Under the law he must be sentenced to two to fourteen years in prison and be fined double the amount of the overdraft.

CHAPTER XXI.

Condemned.

He opened the paper gravely, shadowing the page with one hand so that Cassion was prevented from seeing the words. He read slowly, a frown on his face.

"This is the writing of Governor La Barre, although unsigned," he said at last.

"Yes, monsieur."

"How came the page in your possession?"

"I removed it last night from a leather bag found beneath the sleeping bunk in the quarters assigned me."

"Do you know whose bag it was?"

"Certainly; it was in the canoe with me all the way from Quebec—M. Cassion's."

"Your husband?"

"Yes, monsieur."

De Baugis' eyes seemed to darken as he gazed at me; then his glance fell upon Cassion, who was leaning forward, his mouth open, his face ashen gray. He straightened up as he met De Baugis' eyes, and gave vent to an irritating laugh.

"Sacre, 'tis quite melodramatic," he exclaimed harshly. "But of little value else. I acknowledge the letter, M. de Baugis, but it bears no relation to this affair. Perchance it was unhappily worded, so that this woman, eager to save her lover from punishment—"

De Tonty was on his feet, his sword half drawn.

"'Tis a foul lie," he thundered hotly. "I will not stand silent before such words."

"Messieurs," and De Baugis struck the table. "This is a court, not a messroom. Be seated, M. de Tonty; no one in my presence will be permitted to besmirch the honor of Captain de la Chesnay's daughter. Yet I must agree with Major Cassion that this letter in no way proves that he resorted to violence, or was even urged to do so. The governor in all probability suggested other means. I could not be led to believe he countenanced the commission of crime, and shall ask to read the remainder of his letter before rendering decision. You found no other documents, madame?"

"None bearing on this case."

"The papers supposed to be taken from the dead body of Chevet?"

"No, monsieur."

"Then I cannot see that the status of the prisoner is changed, or that we have any reason to charge the crime to another. You are excused, madame, while we listen to such other witnesses as may be called."

Tears misted my eyes, so the faces about me were blurred, but before I could find words in which to voice my indignation, De Tonty stood beside me, and grasped my arm.

"There is no use, madame," he said coldly enough, although his voice shook. "You only invite insult when you deal with such curs. They represent their master, and have made verdict already—let us go."

De Baugis, Cassion, De la Durantaye were upon their feet, but the dragon first found voice.

"Were those words addressed to me, M. de Tonty?"

"Ay, and why not! You are no more than La Barre's dog. Listen to me, all three of you. 'Twas Sleur de la Salle's orders that I open the gates of this fort to your entrance, and that I treat your courteously. I have done so, although you took my kindness to be sign of weakness, and have lorded it mightily since you came. But this is the end; from now it is war between us, messieurs, and we will fight in the open. Convict Rene d'Artigny from the lies of these hirelings, and you pay the reckoning at the point of my sword. I make no threat, but this is the pledged word of Henri de Tonty. Make passage there! Come, madame."

No one stopped us; no voice answered him. Almost before I realized the action, we were outside in the sunlight, and he was smiling into my face, his dark eyes full of cheer.

"It will make them pause and think—that I said," he exclaimed. "yet will not change the result."

"They will convict?"

"Beyond doubt, madame. They are La Barre's men, and hold commission only at his pleasure. With M. de la Durantaye it is different, for he was soldier of Frontenac's, yet I have no hope he will dare stand out against the rest. We must find another way to save the lad, but when I leave you at the door yonder I am out of it."

"You, monsieur! What can I hope to accomplish without your aid?"

"Far more than with it, especially if I furnish a good substitute. I shall be watched now, every step I take. 'Tis like enough De Baugis will send me challenge, though the danger that Cassion would do so is slight. It is the latter who will have me watched. No, madame, Boisrondet is the lad who must find a way out for the prisoner; they will never suspect him, and the boy will enjoy the trick. Tonight, when the fort becomes quiet, he will find way to explain his plans. Have your room dark, and the window open."

"There is but one, monsieur, outward, above the precipice."

"That will be his choice; he can reach you thus unseen. 'Tis quite possible a guard may be placed at your door."

He left me, and walked straight across the parade to his own quarters, an erect, manly figure in the sun, his long black hair falling to his shoulders. I drew a chair beside the door, which I left partially open, so that I might view the scene without. I could see the door of the guardhouse, and, at last, those in attendance at the trial emerged, talking gravely, as they scattered in various directions. The three officers came forth together, proceeding directly across toward De Tonty's office, evidently with some purpose in view. No doubt, angered at his words, they sought satisfaction. I watched until they disappeared within the distant doorway, De Baugis the first to enter. A moment later one of the soldiers who had accompanied us from Quebec, a rather pleasant-faced lad, whose injured hand I had dressed at St. Ignace, approached where I sat, and lifted his hand in salute.

"A moment, Jules," I said swiftly. "You were at the trial?"

"Yes, madame."

"And the result?"

"The Sleur d'Artigny was held guilty, madame," he said regretfully, glancing about as though to assure himself alone. "The three officers agreed on the verdict, although I know some of the witnesses lied."

"You know—who?"

"My own mate, for one—George Descartes; he swore to seeing D'Artigny follow Chevet from the boats, and that was not true, for we were together all that day. I would have said so, but the court bade me be still."

"Ay, they were not seeking such testimony. No matter what you said, Jules, D'Artigny would have been condemned—it was La Barre's orders."

"Yes, madame, so I thought."

"Did the Sleur d'Artigny speak?"

"A few words, madame, until M. Cassion ordered him to remain still. Then M. de Baugis pronounced sentence—it was that he be shot tomorrow."

"The hour?"

"I heard none mentioned, madame."

"And a purpose in that also to my mind. This gives them twenty-four hours in which to consummate murder. They fear De Tonty and his men may attempt rescue; 'tis to find out the three have gone now to his quarters. That is all, Jules; you had best not be seen talking here with me."

I closed the door, and dropped the bar securely into place. I knew the worst now, and felt sick and faint. Tears would not come to relieve, yet it seemed as though my brain ceased working, as if I had lost all physical and mental power. I know not how long I sat there, dazed, incompetent to even express the vague thoughts which flashed through my brain. A rapping on the door aroused me. The noise, the insistent raps awoke me as from sleep.

"Who wishes entrance?"

"I—Cassion; I demand speech with you."

"For what purpose, monsieur?"

"Mon Dieu! Does a man have to give excuse for desiring to speak with his own wife? Open the door, or I'll have it broken in. Have you not yet learned I am master here?"

I drew the bar, no longer with any sense of fear, but impelled by a desire to hear the man's message. I stepped back, taking refuge behind the table, as the door opened, and he strode in, glancing first at me, then suspiciously about the apartment.

"You are alone?"

"Assuredly, monsieur; did you suspect others to be present?"

"How did I know; you have time enough to spare for others, although I have had no word with you since you came. I come now only to tell you the news."

"If it be the condemnation of Sleur d'Artigny, you may spare your words."

"You know that! Who brought you the message?"

"What difference, monsieur? I would know the result without messenger. You have done your master's will. What said De Tonty when you told him?"

Cassion laughed, as though the memory was pleasant.

"Faith, madame, if you base your hopes there on rescue you'll scarce meet with great result. De Tonty is all bark. Mon Dieu! I went in to hold him to account for his insult, and the fellow met us with such gracious speech, that the four of us drank together like old comrades. The others are there yet, but I had a proposition to make you—so I left them."

"A proposition, monsieur?"

"Ay, a declaration of peace, if you will. Listen, Adele, for this is the last time I speak you thus fairly. You are my wife by law of Holy church. Never have you loved me, yet I can pass that by, if you recognize my authority. This D'Artigny has come between us, and now his life is my hands. I know not that you love the brat, yet you have that interest in him which would prevent forgiveness of me if I show no mercy. So now I come and offer you his life if you consent to be my wife in truth. Is that fair?"

"It may so sound," I answered calmly. "yet the sacrifice is all mine. How would you save the man?"

"By affording him opportunity to escape during the night; first accepting his pledge never to see you again."

"Think you he would give such a pledge?"

Cassion laughed sarcastically. "Bah, what man would not save his life! It is for you to speak the word."

"Monsieur," I said firmly. "I understand your proposition, and refuse it. I will make no pledge."

"You leave him to die?"

"If it be God's will. I cannot dishonor myself, even to save life. You have my answer. I bid you go."

Never did I see such look of beastly rage in the face of any man. He had lost power of speech, but his fingers clutched as though he had my throat in their grip. Frightened, I stepped back, and Chevet's pistol gleamed in my hand.

"I—Cassion, I Demand Speech With You."

"You hear me, monsieur—go!"

He backed out the door, growling and threatening. I caught little of what he said, nor did I in the least care. All I asked, or desired, was to be let alone, to be free of his presence. I swung the door in his very face, and fastened the bar. Through the thick wood his voice penetrated in words of hatred. Then it ceased, and I was alone in the silence, sinking down nerveless beside the table, my face buried in my hands.

I had done right; I knew I had done right, yet the reaction left me weak and pulseless. I saw now clearly what must be done. Never could I live with this Cassion; never again could I acknowledge him as husband. Right or wrong, whatever the church might do, or the world might say, I had come to the parting of the ways; here and now I must choose my own life, obey the dictates of my own conscience. I had been wedded by fraud to a man I despised; my hatred had grown until now I knew that I would rather be dead than live in his presence.

CONGRESS READY TO TAKE ANY ACTION NECESSARY

Members of Both Houses Discuss
Threatening Situation in Calm,
Deliberate Manner.

By United Press.

Washington, June 28.—Unless Gen. Carranza surrenders the twenty-three American troopers held at Chihuahua City before tonight, President Wilson probably will go before Congress Thursday to ask for authority to rescue them by force. Pending their release, the United States government will not consider any offer of mediation or arbitration.

Prompt compliance by Congress with any request the President may make as to Mexico was foreshadowed today by the calm which prevailed in both Houses.

Although measures designed to prepare for war were under consideration and the corridors of the Capitol hummed with rumors, there was no excitement and discussion of the subject on the floor was avoided. The legislative branch of the government was plainly waiting to do its part when that what the majority regarded as inevitable should come.

Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, said he had received no intimation as to the course his government intended to pursue and had not even been advised of the receipt of the American note. On his own responsibility, however, he sent to the State Department two communications. One complains against the enforcement of a general embargo on shipments to Mexico; the other recites the Mexican citizens have been arrested without cause in California and Arizona. They warn Secretary Lansing that the present situation between the two governments can not fail to be gravely aggravated by these matters, although setting forth that the ambassador assumes that local authorities, not the State Department, were responsible for the trouble.

So far as is known the State Department has not been advised of the detention of Mexicans. It is an open secret, however, that a practical embargo on commerce between the United States and Mexico is being enforced effectually by customs and army officers without the authority of a formal proclamation.

Efforts to sound administration officials anew today as to their attitude toward some form of arbitration met with a chilling reception. Charles A. Douglas, recently re-employed as Gen. Carranza's legal adviser here, called on Counselor Polk at the State Department. He and Dr. Victor Pondon, head of the Yucatan Sisal Commission, had received word from Luis Cabrera, the Mexican finance minister, that Gen. Carranza was disposed to appeal to the arbitration provisions of the treaty of 1848, provided the United States was willing to submit the dispute to peaceful negotiation.

Mr. Douglas is understood to have suggested that the arbitration provided for under Sec. 21 of the treaty could well be employed to formulate a definite question as between the two governments which in turn might be settled by mediation. He left the conference with the clear impression that the Washington government would listen to no mediation suggestions.

MEXICAN DECIDED IT WOULD BE WELL TO KISS THE FLAG

Letter From Mrs. L. B. Hill in Baraboo, Wis., Tells of Treatment of Mexican Sympathizer.

Mrs. L. B. Hill, who is visiting her son, Liston Hill, in Baraboo, Wis., has written a letter to Dr. Hill describing the patriotism of the people in that city. Mrs. Hill said that many persons were wearing flags and that one man standing in a group of citizens who were talking about the Mexican situation, jerked a flag from the hand of one of the men, broke it to pieces and then stamped on it. The owner of the flag looked on in amazement for a few seconds and then moved that the stranger be required to kiss the flag and wear it. The crowd readily consented.

The stranger was asked to comply with the request and he refused. He was promptly floored. Upon arising the request was repeated and the performance was likewise repeated. The stranger was knocked down eight times by various persons in the crowd.

Finally someone brought in a rail and the unpatriotic one was ridden through the streets on the rail. The crowd then took him to a high bridge near the edge of the city and started to toss him into the water below when a captain of a National Guard company interfered and took the man away. He was jailed. The crowd readily admitted that the plan was to throw the man into the river and then hang him. Before the crowd released him, however, he was glad to kiss the flag and wore it on the lapel of his coat when he was marched away by the militiamen.

He explained that he had lived in Mexico until a few years ago and was not a naturalized American citizen and thought he had the privilege of saying and doing as he pleased. His erroneous impression, especially at this time, was rectified.

Play Ball.

(Anonymous—Although efforts were made to learn the author's name).

This world's a diamond, with the bases laid,
And on it Life's great game of ball is played.

The team are Human Beings versus Fate,
And Time's the umpire, watching by the plate.

We're at the bat. Our purpose, o'er and o'er
To wield Ambition's club and try to score;

To try to solve the curves the pitcher throws,
And lam the sphere where not a fielder goes.

Some of us seem to bat with skill immense,
Knocking long homers o'er the deep field fence.

Others bunt infield hits, but wildly race,
And beat the ball down to the primal base.

Still others, tho they strive their best, no doubt,
Fan wildly at the air, and then strike out;

Then seek the bench, downcast, with visage drawn,
Crestfallen, shamed, blue, ambition gone.

Or rag the umpire, growling like a bear:
"You robber! That decision wasn't fair!"

That's not the game. Be not a grouch or quitter.
What tho you're not a straight 300 hitter?

You've got another chance. Stand to the plate,
Grab tight your bat, get braced and calmly wait.

Wait for a good one—let the other rip—
And when it comes—Now! Lam it hard! and zip!

It's got to go. And so must you, old man.
Hike for the base. Keep going—yes, you can.

Steal second. Good! Now, easy—not too gay.
There! Get a lead! A hit! Now you're away.

Keep on! Don't stop! Don't lose that dandy stride!
You've got to beat the throw in. Slide, now! Slide!

Hurrah! You did it. Score? Of course you scored.
See—there's your tally marked up on the board.

And now you'll win the game—no doubt at all.
You just can't lose, old man, if you'll play ball.
